Coleman Town Council Notes

Coleman town council met this week when Councillors George Jenkins and Jock Ramsey were reelected as directors on the Coleman Light and Water Company for the next two years.

Application was made by the town of Coleman for membership into the Old Man River Planning Commission and Mayor Frank Abousaify was appointed as representative for the town of Coleman.

Reports on the Municipalities convention held in Calgary on October 29 and 30 were presented by Mayor Abousaify and Town Secretary Trevor Collister, who both attended the affair held in the Palliser Hotel.

Curling Season Gets Underway After Arena Opening

Prior to opening the affair a large number of curlers were addressed by President Roughend, who mentioned the fact that during the past fifty years Coleman has been well known in sports including baseball, soccer, hockey and that local teams have been highly respected all over the west.

Now with artificial ice being installed in the curling arena, he felt that a new era was about to begin and Coleman would gain recognition in curling fields as now they would be assured of curling ice.

He expressed thanks to all those who assisted with labor and in any way towards making the artificial ice plant possible.

Mayor Abousaify then spoke a few words stating that he always said that the assets of a community were not its buildings, but the men living in it which had again been proven by the installation of the artificial ice plan in the curling arena which was done through the effort of local men and much volunteer work. He commended the curling club and all who assisted in making the installation possible.

The curlers then retired from the waiting room to the four ice sheets where a 32-pink, three-day bonspiel got underway.

Winners at the affair which wound up Sunday night were—

First event, Doug Oliver rink of Bismore; second event, George Jenkins rink of Coleman and the third event, the Gunnar Holt rink of Lethbridge.

The newly-installed artificial ice plant cost in the vicinity of $12,000. Besides the installation of the new plant the members of the club have built a striking lounge where the members can view the curling events from glassed in quarters. The interior of the room has been finished in varnished flame wood while a red inlaid inlay adds color to the room.

Indirect lighting has also been installed. Another walking room is on the ground floor where an audience can watch the curling games in progress.

Former Coleman Woman Dies In Car Accident

A surprise visit to parents and relatives in Blairmore and Coleman turned into a heart-breaking tragedy last week when a two-car collision caused the death of a former Coleman woman, hospitalized her husband with serious injuries and placed a mother and daughter in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rose of Yukon, North-West Territories, had just bought a new car and were enroute to the Pass to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gusshul of Blairmore.

They were almost home — the roads were icy — and as they approached Parkland, about 13 miles north of Claresholm on the "S" curve, a car driven by Mrs. Hooge of Purple Springs, Alberta, tried to pass. It is alleged the vehicle spun on the icy road and crashed head-on into the Rose car. Both cars were reported travelling at a moderate rate of speed.

A farmer, Mr. Oviatt, rushed to the aid of the victims, giving first aid to Mr. Rose, Mrs. Hooge and her daughter, who also occupied the second car. He then rushed them to the Claresholm hospital.

Mrs. Rose was too badly injured to be moved and Dr. Little of Claresholm, was called to the scene. Mrs. Rose was taken by ambulance to the hospital in Claresholm where she passed away at about 12:30 p.m. Thursday, November 12.

Mrs. Rose, 44, the former Nadia Gusshul, was born in Coleman on June 25, 1915, and took all of her schooling here. She married George Rose, whose original home is in Newfoundland, about 1947.

The couple spent all their married life in the north where Mr. Rose is a foreman in metal mining. They had no children.

Mr. Rose receives his annual holiday in the fall and this year the couple wrote relatives in the Pass that they would probably spend their vacation travelling further north. Nadia had spent the summer months visiting her parents this year, but they changed their minds and decided to surprise their family and travel south.

Survivors include Mrs. Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gusshul of Blairmore; sisters, Polly, Mrs. Ken Snowden of Coleman, and Parasca, Mrs. Jack Nelson of Pincher Creek; a brother, Evan Gusshul of Lethbridge, and ten nieces and nephews.

J. M. Allan Given Farewell Party

A friendly hour was spent at St. Paul's United Church clubroom after the evening service last Sunday prior to the departure of Mr. James Allen, who left on Monday, November 23 to make his home in Ottawa with his daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Hoyle.

A short program was presented by members of the Sunday School.

Mr. Stuart Murdoch presented Mr. Allen with a suitable gift for his long service as secretary-treasurer of the Sunday School.

Community singing was led by master of ceremonies Mr. B. Bond, piano solo by Miss C. Bond and readings by Misses C. Dunford and J. Coover.

Lunch was then served by the Mens Club of which Mr. Allen was a member.

Mr. Allen was one of the oldest businessmen in Coleman, having operated and owned the Coleman Cash Grocery since the year 1916, and he was a member of the Sunday School for 40 years. He will be very greatly missed by many of his old friends.

Minerva Chapter, O. E. S. Celebrate Birthday

Officers and members of Minerva Chapter No. 41, O. E. S., celebrated the 38th anniversary of said Order on November 19th.

At 6:30 p.m. guests of Letta Chaper, Blairmore, also guests from Drumheller, Calgary and Golden, B. C., joined the Minerva members at a delicious turkey supper.

The head table was centered with a dainty decorated birthday cake flanked with tapers.

Mrs. E. Wilson, Worthy Matron, welcomed the guests and members and hoped they all would spend an enjoyable evening.

Grace was said by Sister K. Bouthillier, who also did the honours in cutting the birthday cake.

This order was instituted in the year 1921 and Mrs. Helen Evans, now residing in Calgary, was the first Worthy Matron.

Funeral services were held in the Coleman United Church Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. and interment was made in the Coleman cemetery. The Rev. Rod McAlay officiated at both church and grave side service. Hall's Funeral Service Ltd. were in charge of arrangements.

Sweeping Changes In Alberta Education Urged In Report

Greatly increased emphasis on mathematics, science, reading, writing and spelling, half an hour more instruction per day, formation of a Master Teacher group, permanent certification only of teachers holding degrees, higher teacher salaries, institution of community colleges, and more local autonomy . . . these are only a few of the suggestions contained in the Cameron Commission on Education, filed Monday with the government of Alberta.

In all, 28 recommendations were made for the improvement of education in Alberta by the members of the commission, who spent something in excess of 200 days in its preparation, over a period of the last 22 months.

Termed by Premier Manning as the most comprehensive survey of education ever made in this country, the report embraces 510 pages with a minority report filed by one member of 280 pages.

Six copies were released by Premier Manning on Thursday morning, one copy of which was received by a special committee of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association. The manuscript is in the process of being printed, and copies will be released to the general public in probably three weeks, Mr. Manning said.

The Premier said there would probably not be time to give the report sufficient study to introduce any legislation from it at the next session. He announced the session would open February 11.

One of the chief recommendations of the report is the upgrading of teacher qualifications to a minimum of four years of training for permanent certification. According to Dr. Mowat, deputy chairman of the Commission, this was the focal point out that the quality of the entire education system was based on the capabilities and training of the teachers involved.

Up to four extra increments could also be paid for meritorious service.

The upgrading suggested would range over a period to 1971, progressing in steps, and would see teachers reach maximum salary in six increments. Provision was suggested for the inclusion of a new Master Teacher group, comprising from one to five per cent of the entire teacher force. Extra salary of $2,000 per year would be paid to such teachers.

The suggested upgrading would not affect permanent certificates already in force, the Commission pointed out, in an interview, but the salary emphasis on increased qualifications would encourage more teachers to qualify, they felt.

Mrs. Taylor, however felt that the recommendation for community colleges was a major break-through for rural youth. The development of present day agricultural colleges into centres offering vocational agricultural and trades training offered a new horizon for farm young people.

During later questioning it was suggested there should be at least half a dozen such centres, designed to fill the gap after leaving high school for students who are anxious to increase their reading at all grades, spelling, mathematics generally, legible handwriting, sciences, and physical fitness.

It goes on to urge the adoption of an achievement test for students leaving school at any level before grade 12, based on communication and computational skills.

A central feature of the suggestion is for accredited schools. These would be accredited by the Department of Education, and come up to certain staff and equipment standards. Such schools would be allowed wide latitude in the handling of the course of studies, though, of course at least the basic curriculum would be covered.

The report recommends the continuation of Departmental Examinations in grades 9 and 12, and the re-instatement of such examinations in grades 10 and 11, in schools not accredited. Accredited schools would handle the tests themselves.

Wider local authority is urged in the report, including the appointment of superintendents by the local governing board, rather than by the Department as at present.

It is suggested the superintendent is often placed in the position of trying to serve two masters, which would be avoided if he were locally appointed.

Greatly increased emphasis on guidance and remedial instruction is urged in the report, which suggests the adoption of regional offices in rural areas, to extend these services to districts which could not afford them on their own. Such zones might be similar to the areas now covered by high school inspectors, or the zones of the Alberta School Trustees' Association.

The committee suggested that students in grades 11 and 12 be urged to adopt one major area of study, on which they should spend at least 40 per cent of their time. It was also recommended that achievement at the grade 9 level should be used more rigorously to determine the courses to be undertaken in senior high school.

Junior high school hours would be increased from 300 minutes to 330 minutes per day, and senior high school to a minimum of 360 minutes per day, under Commission suggestions. Additionally, it is suggested that the time for five-credit courses be increased from 175 minutes per week to 225 minutes per week.

Final suggestion of the group is that the legislature establish an Alberta Educational Planning Commission at the earliest possibility.

The Commission was headed by Senator Donald Cameron, and included deputy chairman, Dr. G. L. Mowat, Mrs. D. A. Hanson, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, John S. Cormack and Norman W. Douglas. Secretary was Dr. R. E. Rees.

Safe Driving Week November 30 To December 7

AIMS — To reach the apathetic motorist and pedestrian. This is the group who refuse to believe the advice, information and pleas for safe driving and safe walking have anything to do with them. They are convinced it is all for anyone and everyone ELSE.

These unfortunate people must be reached and converted. They must be made to understand that they, as all human beings, can make mistakes, and that mistakes made in traffic can kill and maim.

MEANS — Outside of organizing an Apathetics Anonymous, the most effective means of breaking through this iron curtain of indifference is to broadcast a persistent barrage in the hope that constant hammering of warnings, pleas and brief, forceful messages will have an accumulative effect and make the correct reaction automatic when emergency demands it. Ideally, the apathetic driver or walker should be approached individually and dealt with as an ailing person is dealt with.

This is not a simple procedure.

Methods must be factual, sincere, concise. The subject is a doubter and usually a strong adherent of his own faith in his ability to drive or walk in traffic.

The apathetic motorist and pedestrian belongs to a cult which, fortunately, is decreasing. As long as even a small tribe exists, everything remains vital when it leads to the extinction of this obnoxious killer.

Safe Driving Week 1959, is sponsored nationally by the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

It has the active support of all safety organizations, provincial and local, as well as governments and police on national, provincial and community levels; women's groups, public service organizations, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, clergy, judiciary, the legal profession, the medical profession, the oil, automotive, rubber, insurance and a great many other industries as well as countless individuals.

It needs the support of EVERYBODY. Without such support and active participation, Safe Driving Week, 1959, is weakened.

If the motorist and pedestrian can be shown it is possible to drive and walk safely for just one week it will be relatively simple to convince him it can be done EVERY week.

"baby shower" ever held.

This tremendous project, the largest ever undertaken by the USC is a contribution to "World Refugee Year", and it has the whole-hearted endorsement of the Canadian government.

A basic layette consists of four diapers, two nightgowns, two shirts, two jackets, one towel, one bar of laundry soap and four large safety pins — surely a meagre layette to our way of thinking, but to refugee mothers, a magnificent gift.

Please let us make it clear that used garments are very acceptable, and many mothers have contributed items their own babies no longer need. Some of the loveliest layettes have been skillfully pieced together from scraps of left-over material, unworn corners of sheets and old pyjamas.

If every Alberta mother gave just one of the above items we could complete our project in one week!

We are making this urgent appeal to either organized groups or to individuals to start collecting baby items now, and share with us the warmth of dressing a baby in something nice instead of rags — because rags they wear for lack of anything else. This is a far-reaching and most humanitarian project and there is hardly a more worldwide call for your assistance.

The Calgary branch of the Unitarian Service Committee is launching a province-wide "Layette Drive" to help fulfill Canada's pledge to the United Nations of 25,000 layettes for the Arab refugee babies in the Middle East.

Ten thousand completed layettes are still needed by Christmas, and we are appealing to all Albertans to help in this, the largest layette project ever undertaken.

Mr. E. Bowman and Family.

Dr. Lotta Hitachmanova, executive director of the Unitarian Service Committee, will be in Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge in November, so watch your local paper for her arrival. In Calgary she will be holding her public meeting at the Golden Age Club, 505, 11th St. S.W., at 8:30 p.m. and everyone within reach is invited to come and hear her speak. She will also be appearing on CHCT-TV and on all radio stations. Please listen for her talks.

Your parcels of layette items may be mailed to — Douglas Moving and Storage Ltd., 4232, 16th St. S.E., Calgary. But may we ask you to please send your letters to Mrs. J. Ockley, Chairman, Calgary branch, U.S.C., 2624, 33rd St. S.W., Calgary.

C.Y.O. Notes

The first meeting of the Coleman C.Y.O. held in the Catholic hall on October 11th, resulted in the election of the following executive:

President, Frank Baruta.

Vice-president, Vanda Cozzi.

Secty-treas., Kay Ferschweiler. We then decided to have our meetings on every second Sunday.

The agenda of the next gathering, held on October 18th, consisted of a short business meeting followed by group discussions on the association between teachers and students. This turned out very well with many surprising conclusions.

Twenty C.Y.O. members spent an enjoyable week-end at the C.Y.O. convention held in Calgary November 7 and 8.

We would like to extend our most sincere thanks to Rev. Father D. Fleming, Mr. David Feragut and Mr. J. Blins who were kind enough to provide transportation for the trip.

We welcome all new members.

Man who is willing to make the best of it, seldom gets the worst of it.
